As remote from any X Factor-style format as your imagination allows, FOCSLE MUSIC's regulars assure you a sympathetic and attentive listen. We value the hidden talent of shy débutant(e)s. So don't be coy: come along and do your stuff (we may join in where it sounds right — we have some fine harmony singers).

More than half our evenings have no entry fee*, but our raffle helps finance future guests. For many guests, there's a modest door charge. Some singarounds may morph into guest-nights or other formats. Any event is open to change: always check, via the website or direct contact.

www.focsle.org has the latest on any venue / artist changes; wherever we meet, we try to confirm each one is running, by posting online by 12noon on the day. More info? Best to contact the event's M.C. [see website]: Jon@focsle.org or 077 7598 2908 or Paul@focsle.org or 023 8046 2723 [24hr ans., until c.1hr before an event].

* at The Guide Dog, a civilized, intimate Real Ale haven only a mile or so from the centre of the city. You'll find us in the back room, "The Doghouse" [geddit???]: via its own access, off Ancasta Rd, you could (if so minded) listen in before showing yourself!
